HIGHLIGHTS

THREE MINUTE THESIS NATIONAL FINALS

Making an audience of as many non-specialists from different backgrounds as possible understand years of research in just three minutes is the challenge set by the CNRS and the Conférence des Présidents d'Université (University Presidents Conference) for PhD students. For the second French edition of the "Three Minute Thesis", every university research consortium has answered the call for volunteers and their best candidates will come together on the 3rd June 2015 for the national finals in Nancy.

ADMISSION ON REGISTRATION: MT180.FR

GALA EVENING

A Gala Evening will be organised on Thursday 4th June at the Abbaye des Prémontrés in Pont-à-Mousson: buffet dinner with musical accompaniment. Informal dress.

Price : 60€

(payment only during conference registration – limited number of places)

CLOSING EVENING OPEN TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC

"Filmer sa recherche" (Filming your Research) Awards.

The ambition of the Festival du Film de Chercheur (Researchers' Film Festival) is to draw attention to research in progress, with the emphasis on its human and social aspects. The Filming your Research competition is based on this philosophy. Come and join the audience at the awards ceremony on Friday 5th June at 7.45 pm, when the best 2 of the 10 projects presented during the afternoon receive their awards.

Conference by Etienne Klein for the general public

Etienne Klein is a past master in the art of making science enjoyable and giving it its rightful place at the heart of our daily life. Whether talking about quantum physics or the philosophy of science, he enthral his audience and uses simple words and humour to explain subjects which are too often considered to be incomprehensible. He will be there at the Centre Prouvé to share his love of science and bring to a close a week rich in science and culture events on a high note.
